the Good Value Vase

You may own a piece of clothing that looks nice on the hanger, but when you put it on - Wow - it looks fantastic! That's how I felt the first time I put a few flowers in one of the early prototypes for this vase- just three fluffy mums became a bouquet and somehow made the vase itself bigger and more beautiful.

When I showed a friend the trick she declared, "Now that's good value." And the name stuck.

Designed by Jill Henrietta Davis, each Good Value vase is handblown at the Henrietta Glass studio in Rhode Island.
